PLAYED HIGH GAME IN SALT LAKE CITY

Sidney Lascelles Posed Here as "Lord Beresford Hope" in 1905.

LIVED HIGH FOR A TIME AND THEN DISAPPEARED

His Death Recently Was Reported at Asheville N. C.; Reads Like Romance.

Sidney Lascelles, whose deeds are better known in Salt Lake City than his home, is dead, having departed this life at Asheville, N. C., a few days ago. His death ends the career of "Lord the erstwhile Beresford Hope, financial star of the West. "Dr. Arnold Kingsley" of Denver, "Sidney Asquith'' of the South, and numerous others, for Luscelles juggled with names and pocketbooks and revelled in aliases. Swindling has been his life study, and he remained true to his profession, for his last deed was to swindle the doctors and nurses who ministered to him during his fatal illness.

The life story of this bogus English lord reads more like a romance than a chronicle of real events. Since he reached his majority he had plied his questionable avocation, and was shadowed all the while by sleuths. But he always had the rare good fortune of being able to disappear at exactly the right time, and thus avoid arrest. Lascelles, or rather "Hope," as he was most frequently known, planned some of the most stupendous financial deals ever confitted in this he was most frequently known, planned some of the most stupendous financial deals ever cogitated in this country, and concerned himself but little about getting the necessary funds. Spurious British securities were his stock in trade, and he always managed to borrow on the strength of his appearance, his assumed name and his check book, on which was engraved the crest of the house of Beresford.

Appeared in Salt Lake.

At Salt Lake he first came into rominence in the fall of 1905, when prominence in the fall of 1905, when he inquired here concerning opportuni-ties for the investment of British capital. He remained here only a few days, but again appeared during the following February. Money being only a minor consideration, he immediately secured an option on the Bingham Copper Glance, and established his headquarters in a room in the D. F. Walker holding.

building.

Later, after he had negotiated for numerous mines, he called on Joseph F Smith for the purpose of buying the street railway system. After the conference he announced that the railway system would be taken over by a big traction company which he was organizing. He next conferred with David Eccles, and, according to his version of the interview, arranged for the transfer of the Ogden Rapid the transfer of the Ogden Rapid Transfer company's property to the traction company. Meanwhile he had convinced local business men that he represented the "British-American Securities company, Limited" of London, a magnanimous $50,000,000 corporation, which he said was financing his deals.

deals.

Having heard of the possibilities of harnessing the Shoshone, he made a trip to Idaho, and became interested in the Shoshone Power company. Here he conceived the plan to construct an electric railway from Juab county, Utah, to Oneida county, Idaho, name of the Interstate Consolidated Railroad company, and among the halfoad company, and among the names of the incorporators appeared those of some of the most prominent local and Eastern financiers. His next move was to form the "International Trust company" to handle the railroad company's securities.

Frenzied Financier.

"Lord Hope's" energies were not devoted entirely to the insignificant deals mentioned above, for while these were in progress others were being consummated. For instance, he had undertaken the flotation of $500,000 bonds for the improvement of the Og-den Rapid Transit system; he had agreed to secure the necessary $500. agreed to secure the necessary $500.

MAN AND HIS WIFE SENT UP FOR STEALING

First Sentences Under New Law Establishing Crime of Burglary in Third Degree.

The first sentences to be passed under the law enacted at the last Legislature, establishing the crime of burglary in the third degree, were unusual in another respect, in that a husband and wife were sent to the penitentiary at the same time, and received the same sentence. Walter Van Loon and his wife, Marie Van Leon, were arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the District court Tuesday, and pleaded guilty to entering the old Walker house, 414 Main street, on May 1, and stealing therefrom furniture belonging to Samuel Newhouse. Judge Armstrong gave each a year in the State penitentiary.

There were several other arraignments before Judge Armstrong John Long of Murray was charged with disturbing the peace of that burg by discharging a revolver in the street, by Emanuel Hammond, on September 2, 1905. There was not sufficient evidence, and Long was discharged.

TEACHERS RAISE MONEY FOR THE OPERATION +

Recently She Was Burned About the Lower Limbs; Riddle Gives Reading.

One of the greatest skin-grafting perations in local medical annals will . be necessary to prevent Miss Nita 4 Gerber, a teacher in the Uintah school, | who was severely burned about three |weeks ago, from being a cripple for life. The flesh and skin on both the | + young woman's lower limbs were burnt | 4 to a crisp, and at some places the 4 burns were three-quarters of an inch +

As yet it is impossible to commence the operation. Miss Gerber is in bed, + and unable to walk, and Dr. A. C. says that it will be necessary to wait + until her general health and nervous + condition improves before the work of + skin-grafting can be commenced. He + thinks it can be commenced in about a month, and that Miss Gerber may be well enough to walk in six months.

Meanwhile the teachers in the various city schools have taken the matter up, and have assessed them-selves $1 each to defray the expenses of the operation. In one way and another the teachers have raised about $500, but $800, at least, will be necessary to pay Miss Gerber's expenses and the cost of the operation. At present she is under an expense of $75 a week. The Board of Education, in its generosity, allowed her one month's pay, amounting to $60.

Miss Gerber was burned by the exolosion of an alcohol lamp at the lintah school. She and others were preparing refreshments for some visit-ing teachers, when the lamp exploded, and set fire to her skirts. A man who was present had the presence of mind to wrap his coat about her and ex-tinguish the flames, otherwise she would have been burned to death.

would have been burned to death.

When the operation is commenced it will be necessary for human skin to be used to replace the charred skin on Miss Gerber's limbs. Volunteers will be called for to furnish skin. Dr. Behle said Tuesday night that several persons had already volunteered, but he declined to disclose their names.

George Riddle, the noted dramatic George Riddle, the noted dramatic elocutionist, gave a reading at the First Congregational church Tuesday night under the auspices of the teachers who are interested in helping Miss Gerber, and he will give an-other at 4 o'clock this afternoon. G. A. R. TURNED DOWN.

County Commissioners Refuse to Extend Usual Donation.

The county commissioners have de-clined to help the Grand Army of the Republic in their observance of Decoration day in any way this year. It has been customary for many years for the county to give the local post a vote of $50 for the purpose of decorating the graves of their comrades and toward the xpenses of the day. Nobody ever ob jected to the vote and it was expected that it would be made this year again without question. When a committee from the local post of the G. A. R. waited upon the commissioners this week they were surprised to receive a week they were surprised to receive a refusal and that in what they consider discourteous language. Henry P. Burns, a veteran, presented the petition, which was curtly refused. Mr. Burns, as well as others of the organization, feels that the manner in which the refusal came was a direct insult to the old soldiers. It is stated that the commissioners have intimated that they consider the G. A. R. disloyal, but to what or to whom A. R. disloyal, but to what or to be does not appear. J. E. Clinton, of the commissioners, is stated to have been commissioners, the members who premost offensive to the members who presented the petition.

EXCELLENT HORSES NOW IN ZION CITY

Equines of Best Possible Breed, but They Can Scarcely Find Stall Room.

* Should anyone doubt the present prosperity of Salt Lake under these American party times, let him take a horse around to any livery stable in the city and ask for stall room. One prominent citizen stated to The Tribune yesterday that he had been + unable to find stall room and board for his horse, being turned down repeatedly in his trips to the many livery stables of Salt Lake. The stables all are crowded. It is stated that in some instances the livery men are compelled to hitch their steeds to almost anything available except a stall.

Last year the livery men raised the price per month for boarding horses from $19 to $22.50. The latter price was considered sufficient to find lodgment for horses by the month, but even at that rate the livery stables are too crowded. This is prosperity, and would lead one to either bulld a stable for his horses or use automobiles altogether.

Another thing apropos in talking about horses. The quality of horses seen upon the streets of Salt Lake during the past two years has constantly grown better. At the present time there can be seen teams that are worthy of blue ribbons at any fair. Salt Lake never had finer horses as a rule than at the present time. And more room must be found for them. We + hear a great deal about the + growth of the city's population, . but a person will not appreciate 4 how the horse population has grown until he buys a nag and attempts to find stable room for +++++++++++++++

MEDICAL STUDENTS ARE UP IN ARMS

Forcing Out of Dean Chamberlain Is Not Greatly to Their Liking.

A peculiar condition of affairs has arisen at the University during the past few days. Last week Dean Ralph V. Chamberlain of the Medical school sent his resignation to the board of regents as dean of the school, but conof biology. This resignation was accepted by the board, but the students of the Medical school are up in arms, strenuously objecting to any such action by Professor Chamberlain. day atternoon, they held an indignation meeting to discuss the matter. Three years ago there was no medical school at the University. The work done in zoology, botany and biology done in zoology, botany and biolog was all of a highschool grade. One prowas all of a highschool grade. One professor controlled the entire work in these branches. At this time, Dean Chamberlain entered the school and took charge of the work. The next year a medical school of college grade and high standing was established. During the present year, it has grown so that plans have been laid to almost double its capacity. At present, there are about fifty students doing purely medical work of college grade and also a large number who are doing work in biology.

According to the students, this ad-According to the students, this advancement has come mainly through the efforts of Dr. Chamberlain, whom they appreciate because of his intense enthusiasm in the work. The proposed plan now on foot is to reduce the medical school to a department of the school of arts and science. This of course left the institution with an extra dean on its hands and Dr. Chamberlain stepped out with his school growing rapidly, but apparently to be reduced. To this the medical students object. They claim that if the school is reduced to a department, legal difficulties will enter in the way of securing credit for their work elsewhere. They also want Dr. Chamberlain. Of the forty-eight students at the meeting Tuesday, only three proved to be against this sentiment. After devoting a couple of hours to discussing the subject, the students adjourned until this afternoon, when it is declared by their leaders that a set of vigorous resolutions will be sent to the faculty and the regents asking that the resignation of Dean Chamberlain be reconsidered and that he be placed back at their head.

REAL ESTATE DEAL NOW MAPPED OUT

Well Authenticated Rumor Current That Newhouse Will Make Other Purchases.

PROPERTY REFERRED TO IS EXTREMELY VALUABLE

Question to Be Settled on the Arrival of Mining Magnate.

A current rumor, well authenticated by circumstances, has it that Samuel Newhouse is about to add to his Salt Lake real estate holdings by purchasing the three-story brick building and property on the west side of Main street, immediately south of the post-property on the west side of Main street, immediately south of the postoffice. Mr. Newhouse has already acquired the property on the northwest corner of Main and Fourth South streets, but this is limited to a frontage of 48 feet on Main and a depth of 97 feet. In keeping with the extent of his undertakings in other portions of this and the surrounding blocks it is natural to suppose that he will some day erect a pretentious structure on this corner or dispose of the lot.

The latter move is probable, for he evidently purchased the property for the purpose of carrying out his building plans and in its present state the lot seems too small to accomodate a large building. It is hemmed in on the north and west by an "L"-shaped piece of property, owned by Mr. Clift. This has a frontage on Main street of 70 feet and on Fourth South of 86 feet. On its Main street front is occupied by a modern three-story brick structure, containing a grocery store, saloon and rooming house, and a cottage is located on the Fourth South street side.

According to report, Mr. Clift has offered to sell the property to Mr. Newhouse for a consideration concerning which there has been but little argument, but with the proviso that Mr. Newhouse must agree to erect a $1,000,000 building on the site. Mr. Newhouse is expected to return from the East in the near future and it is possible that there will be some developments in the case within the next few days.

there will be some developments in the case within the next few days.

When asked concerning the rumor, S.
B. Tuttle, who negotiated many of Mr. Newhouse's former deals, seemed reticient but in reply to the question whether the deal was in progress he replied that he was not prepared to say. W. J. Halloran, representing Mr. Clift, declined to speak.

POSTMASTER RETURNS

Visited Jamestown Tercentennial and Named Utah Day for October 15.

Postmaster A. L. Thomas returned Tuesday morning from his representative trip to its opening of the Jamestown Tercentennial exposition.
